

TELEMEDICINE

As an international leader providing lifesaving services in the oil & gas industry, SMS continues to promote work site health and safety with the addition of telehealth services.

Telemedicine uses an advanced video conference system for virtual examinations, allowing medical professionals to examine, diagnose and treat employees remotely. This system advances healthcare and reduces unnecessary transports and evacuations.

Whether the situation is emergent or minor, patients have 24/7 access to a network of over 1,200 board certified physicians and specialists.

Medical professionals can remotely assist in:

- Performing examinations
- Conducting diagnostic testing
- Following the improvement of treated conditions

The FDA-approved telemedicine units project high-resolution images in real-time for accurate assessment. Using two-way video and voice, the physician conducts examinations with the remote paramedic's assistance.

Our telemedicine system also provides preventative and wellness services. Wellness coaches can provide instructions from thousands of miles away through health assessments for each individual patient.

Health and wellness plans include:

- Exercise regimens
- Sleep and stress management
- Tobacco cessation
- Chronic condition supervision, such as for diabetes and high blood pressure
